

caillou

Book 5-5

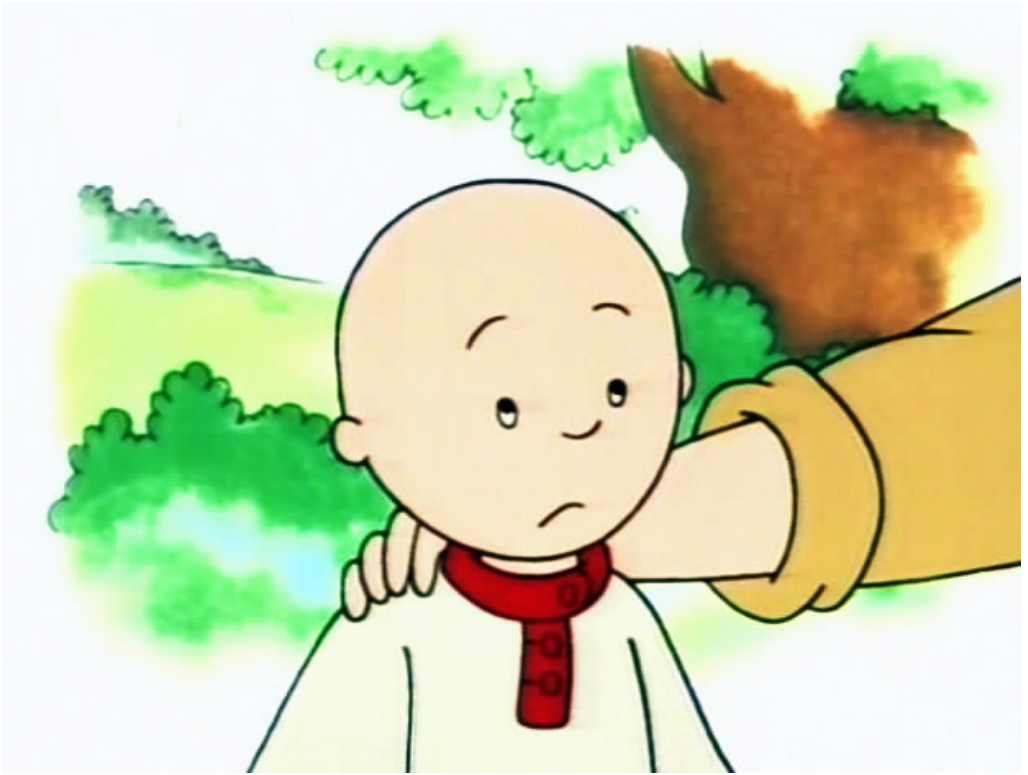

Storyteller: Know what time it is? It's time for a Caillou story. Well now, let's see what Caillou did today. I think he met some animals. Today's story is called "Caillou Goes to the Zoo".

Zoe: Hi, welcome to the zoo. My name's Zoe.

Caillou: Are we going to see lots of animals?

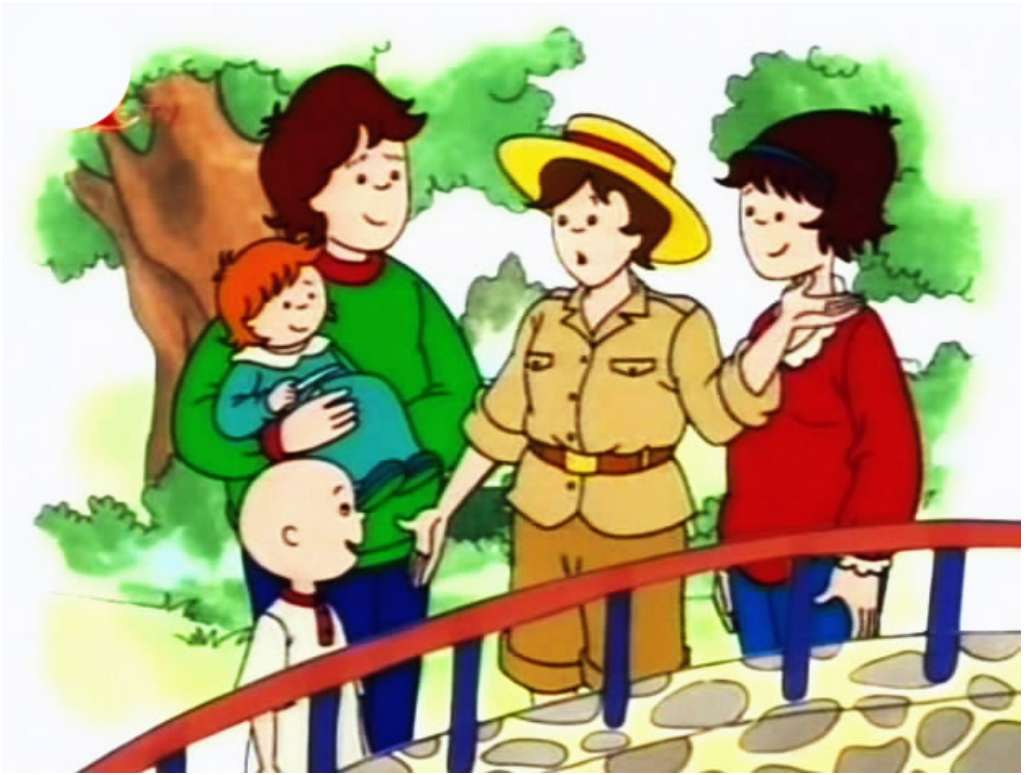

Zoe: Oh yes. And we're very excited because lots of our animal families have new babies. Would you like to see some baby wolves?

Caillou: Baby wolves? Really? Wow.

Zoe: See the baby wolves? Those are their noses.

Caillou: Why don't they come out? I want to see them.

Zoe: They were just born the other day, so they want to stay with their mommy.

Caillou: Oh, I wanted to see them.

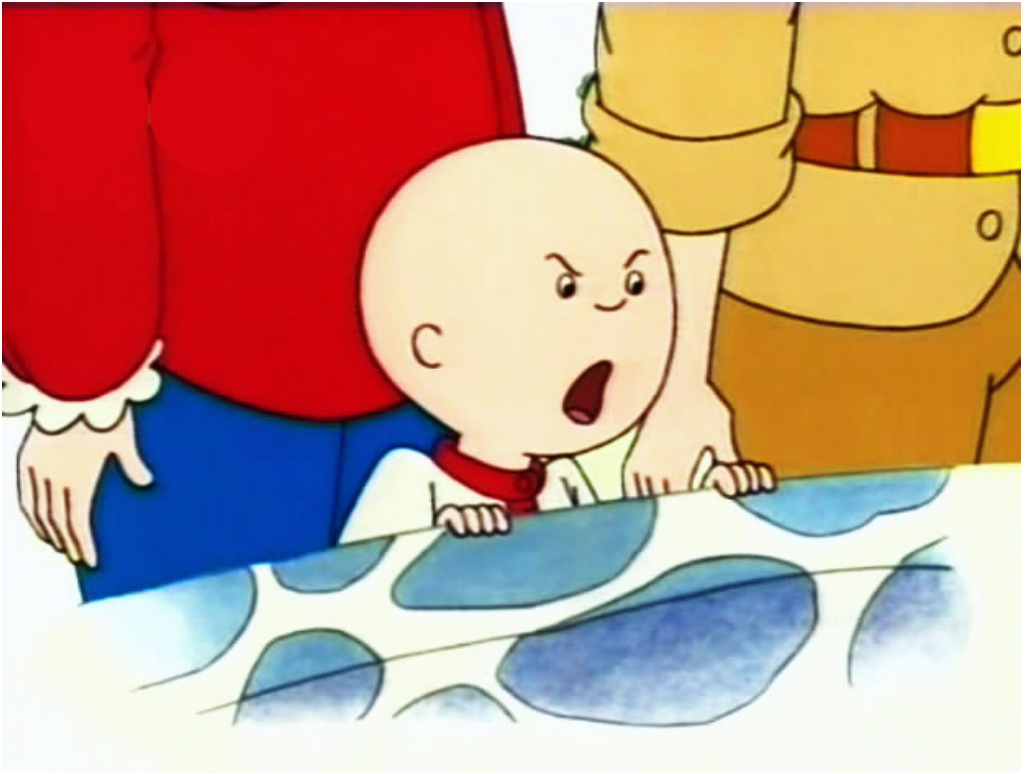

Zoe: You know, Caillou, they'll stay with their families all their lives.

Caillou: Do all the baby animals stay with their mommies and daddies?

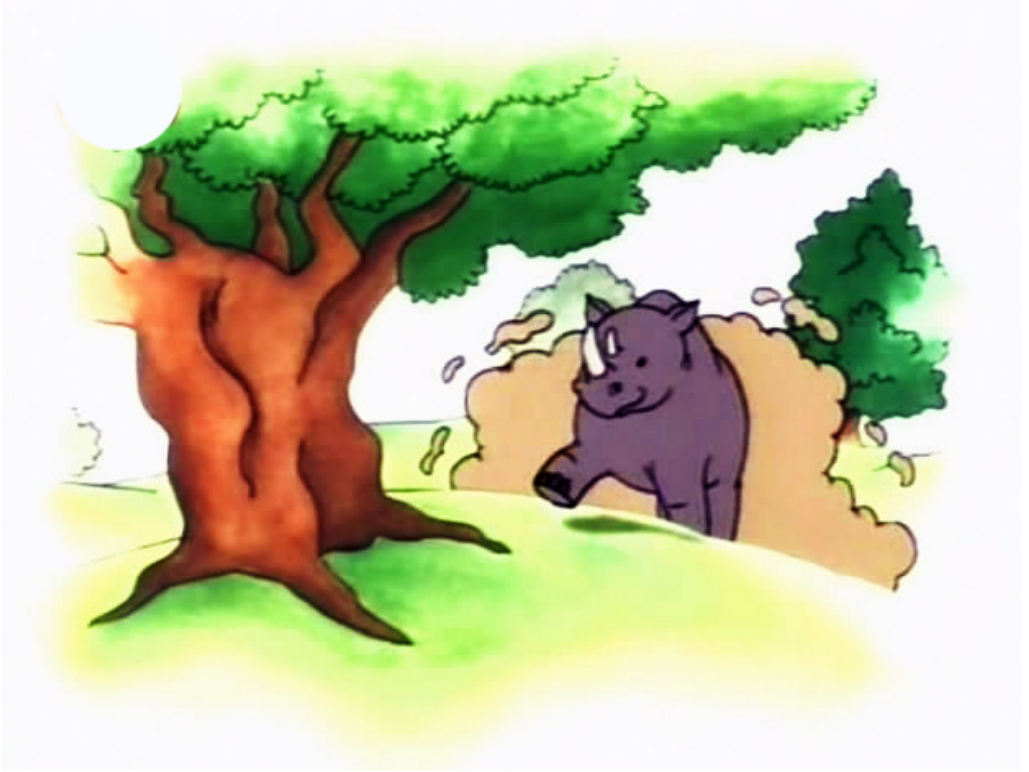

Zoe: Oh no. Most of animals leave their families when they're big enough. Would you like to see another animal family?

Caillou: Yes, please.

Storyteller: Caillou liked the idea of animals having families

Caillou: Where are they? Where are they?

Daddy: They must be in their house, Caillou. I'm afraid we might not see them today. Although I think we might be lucky after all.

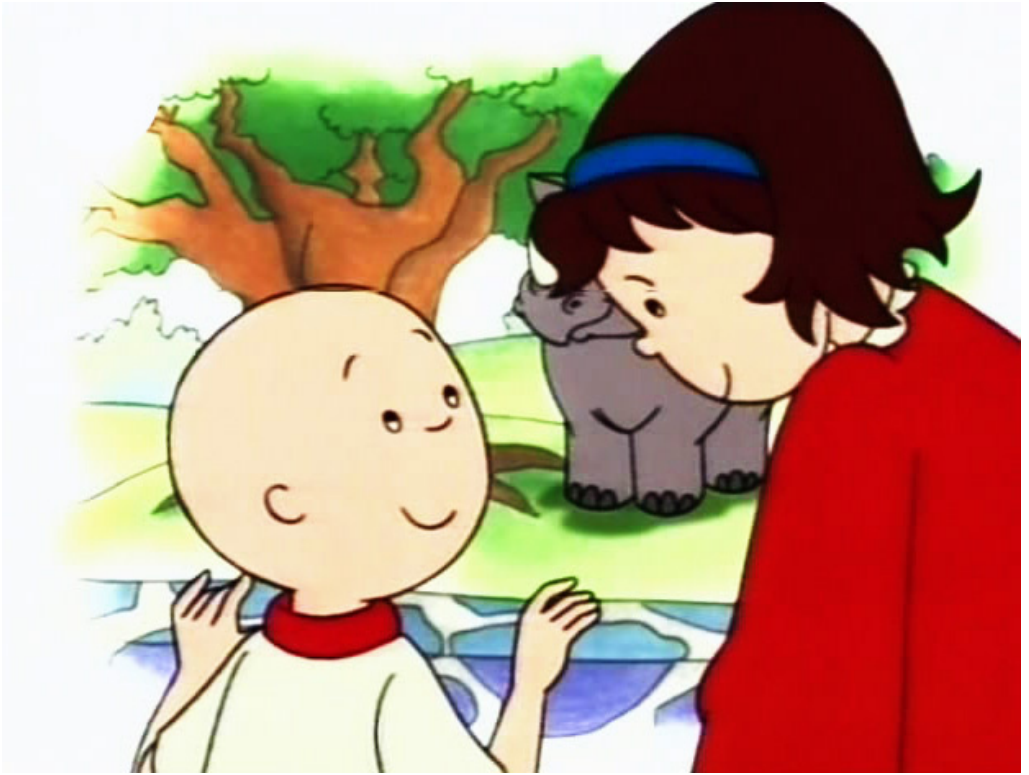

Caillou: Wow. He's so big. The rhino's as big as a dinosaur.

Rosie: Rhino. Dino. Rhino. Dino.

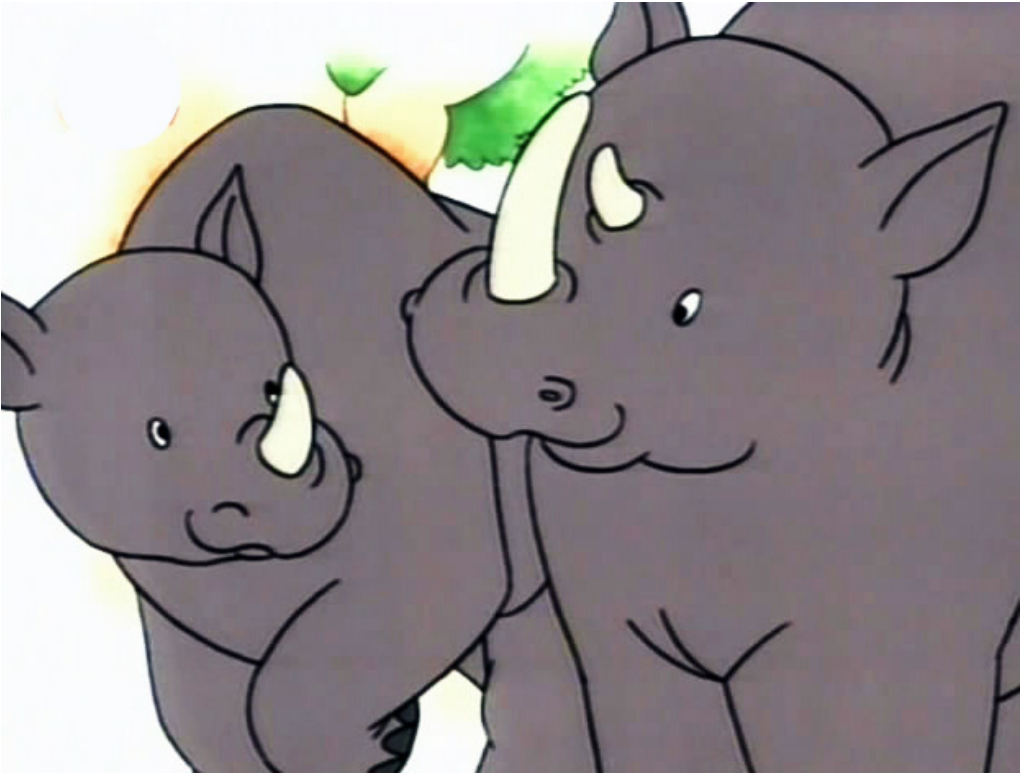

Zoe: You know what, Caillou? That rhino's not a HE, she is a SHE. And she has a baby.

Caillou: Really? A baby rhino?

Mommy: Of course, Caillou. Even really big animals have babies.

Caillou: Look, look. It's the baby rhino.

Zoe: He's not very cuddly, but I think he's cute as a button.

Caillou: Yeah! A sea otter. It's a sea otter. They're my favorite.

Zoe: That little guy came to us when he was just a baby, Caillou.

Caillou: Does he have a family too?

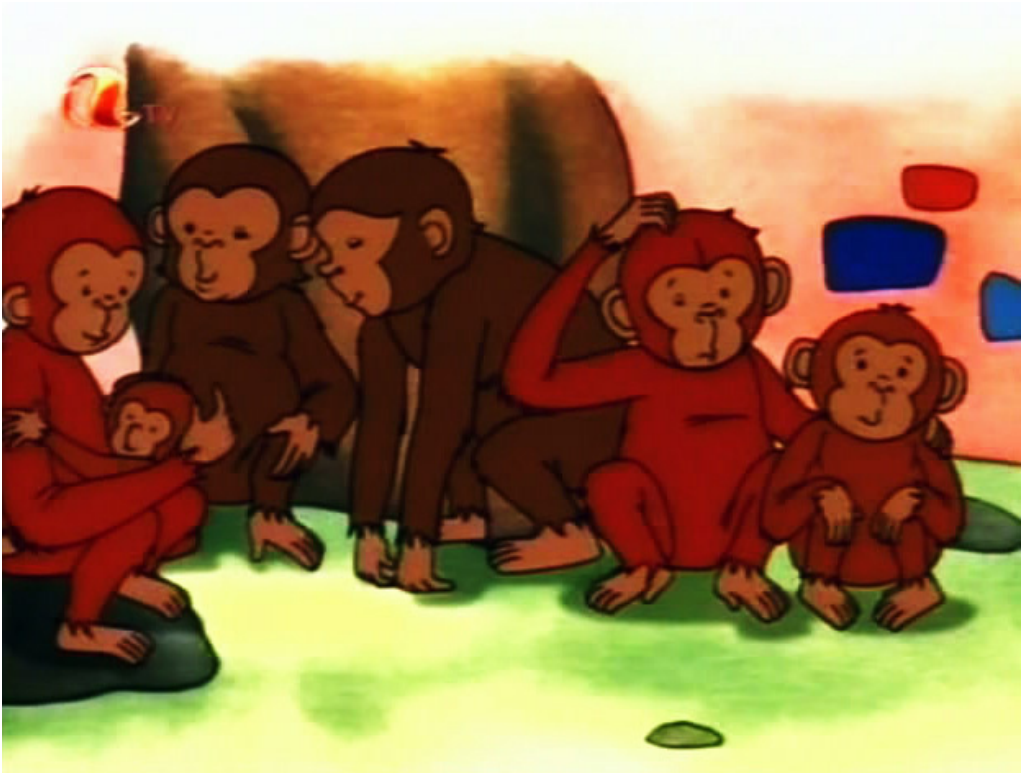

Zoe: I'm afraid not. You see, his mommy died.

Caillou: His mommy died? Will he be alright?

Zoe: He'll be fine. But you know, because he didn't have his mommy to show him what to do, we've had to teach him everything. Even how to swim and how to feed himself.

Storyteller: It was the first time Caillou had seen a real sea otter.

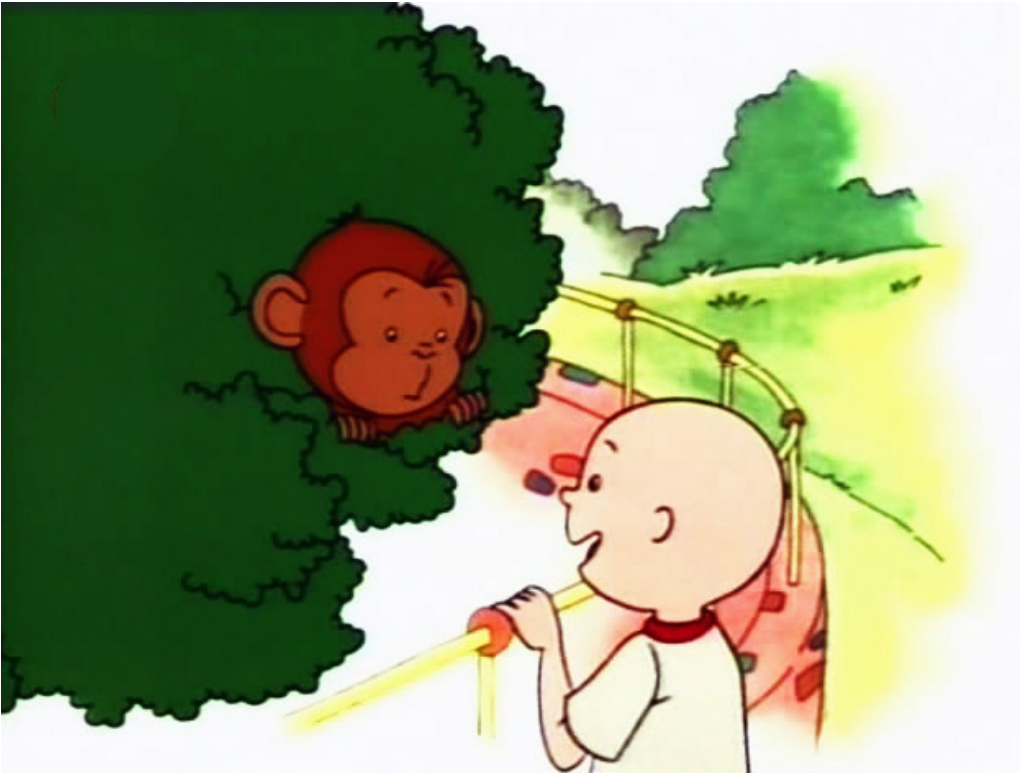

Caillou: I wish we could take him home with us.

Zoe: Oh, you can't do that. He's almost ready to go back to the ocean.

Mommy: What's so funny, Caillou?

Caillou: That chimpanzee looks like Grandpa.

Daddy: Ha ha ha. You're right. He does look like Grandpa. But you know what? That little guy looks a bit like you, Caillou.

Caillou: He's coming to say hello.
